A series of illustrative exercises, covering the general principles of the subject of agronomy, is being published by the Office of Experiment Stations, and will be followed by similar publications covering other branches of agriculture. The committee has organized subcommittees on secondary courses, on courses in home economics, and on courses in rural engineering. The subcommittee on secondary courses has in preparation a syllabus of a course for use in the regular public high schools, and a series of lessons and practicums showing more fully the character and scope of this course, which it is expected will be published through the Office of Experiment Stations. The subcommittees on courses in rural engineering and on home economics have been engaged in studying the existing status of such courses in the land-grant colleges as a preliminary. The report of this committee was followed by a lengthy discussion in which the interest of the association in this work was brought out, and its desire for the early publication of the results of the committee s studies for use in connection with various grades of agricultural instruction was expressed. The report of the committee on graduate study was presented by Director L. H. Bailey (see Graduate School of Agriculture, p. 236). The report of the committee on extension work was presented by President K. L. Butterfield. This report defined extension teaching in agriculture, and grouped the various forms of extension work under six...
