With greater concentration, the United States faces a much greater threat of travel disruptions. Imagine the nationwide effects of a labor action or FAA grounding at a combined United Continental, which analysts estimate would control nearly a fifth of all domestic airline seats. Even a 24-hour loss of service would have severe consequences. Eight, too big to fail. Just as we have seen with banking and other businesses, we are now seeing the airline industry evolving into an oligopoly of 800-pound gorillas. Those who previously de-cried any form of assistance to financially struggling carriers would reverse that argument, claiming a mega carrier such as United Continental would be too big to fail. And they will be right. A shut-down would have immediate and adverse effects throughout the country. Nine, raising the stakes. Since the approval of the Delta North-west merger, some proponents of the United Continental merger argue that...
