I saw her once--so freshly fair, That, like a blossom just unfolding, She opened to lifes cloudless air, And Nature joyed to view its moulding: Her smile, it haunts my memory yet--Her cheeks fine hue divinely glowing--Her rosebud mouth--her eyes of jet--Around on all their light bestowing: Oh! who could look on such a form, So nobly free, so softly tender, And darkly dream that earthly storm Should dim such sweet, delicious splendour! For in her mien, and in her face, And in her young steps fairy lightness, Nought could the raptured gazer trace But beautys glow, and pleasures brightness. I saw her twice--an altered charm--But still of magic richest, rarest, Than girlhoods talisman less warm, Though yet of earthly sights the fairest: Close to her breast she held a child, The very image of its mother; Which ever...

Reviews

An extremely wonderful pdf with perfect and lucid information. Better than never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

This publication will be worth purchasing. It is written in straightforward words and not hard to understand. I am just very happy to explain how here is the best ebook we have read in my own lifestyle and might be the best publication for at any time.
